

LISA VII

Open Science at the Frontiers of Librarianship

Naples 17-20 June 2014

In a rapidly changing scientific information environment, astronomy has been a forerunner. Astronomy librarians have to be adaptable and creative to meet the demands of this community. The seventh meeting of Library and Information Services in Astronomy (LISA VII) is a platform to discuss the state of the art of information maintenance, retrieval, delivery, and preservation. LISA VII wants to look even further into the future.
